Form 10-K for the Fiscal Year Ended December 31, 2006

Consolidated Financial Statements

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Note 7 – Income Taxes, page 60

1. We note that you reported nearly $1 billion of deferred tax liabilities within discontinued operations as of June 30, 2006. Please tell us more about the nature of these liabilities and explain why classification in discontinued operations was appropriate. In addition, explain to us the extent to which these liabilities related to your $1.1 billion settlement with the IRS.

2. Please explain to us how the disclosures regarding your tax contingencies evolved from those made in your Form 10-Q for the first quarter of 2006 to the corresponding disclosures in your second and quarter filings for that year. Your response should describe any changes in circumstances and explain how such changes affected your disclosures throughout the periods covered by these filings. In addition, provide us with a quantitative reconciliation of the amounts related to these contingencies that were reported within your financial statements and footnotes. This reconciliation should roll amounts from the first quarter of 2006 forward through the second and third quarters.

3. You disclose that restructuring charges are “infrequent or episodic.” Please explain your basis for this disclosure as it appears inconsistent with the fact that such charges have consistently appear within your statements of operations over an extended period.
